Your Personal Information

What personal information do We collect about You?

We obtain Your personal information (including that of Your staff) from the following sources:

- From You: You will know what personal information We obtain from you, because You (or someone You have authorised to deal with Us e.g. a member of Your staff) has provided it to Us. Examples of how We obtain personal information about You include:
 - When You make an enquiry (such as submitting an enquiry form to Us).
 - When You give Us information via email, our website or transmissions that You make via our Electronic Data Interchange (EDI) system.
 - During a telephone call with Us, or during face to face discussions with Us.
 - Your registration on Our Website, information provided by You via Our Website, our Drainage calculator software, or via social media messaging.
 - If You report something to Us (such as a problem with the Website) or when You send a completed order form to Us.

- From Marketing Sources: We love to receive new customers as a result of recommendations from Our existing customers and we also actively seek new customers through marketing. We obtain information about prospective new customers, and enquiries from prospective and existing customers from:
 - Your responses to Our online marketing or direct marketing to You, whether You respond by electronic mail, telephone, post, social media or other means.
 - Your interactions with Us at exhibitions and other events that we run or attend, such as receiving Your business card, and Our discussions with You.
 - Your interactions with Our online advertising and advertisements placed by our digital media and marketing service providers.
 - the purchase of lists of possible customer details from a third party. We only purchase lists from suppliers who give Us legal assurance that the customer contacts have opted in (consented) to receiving marketing.

 - Members of Our Group of companies.
 - Companies outside Our Group who We work with from time to time.
 - Our bank or providers who process payments from You, to confirm the outcome of the payment transactions.
 - Data providers, such as Barbour ABI, which we use to identify (at an early stage) projects and project contacts for which we have relevant products to offer.
 - Print and digital advertisers who may receive Your initial enquiries and refer the enquiries to Us.
 - Our digital media and marketing service providers who provide Us with personal information obtained via social media, being the ability to contact You directly via social media (particularly Linked In, Facebook and Twitter, and if You choose to network with Us, respond to Our posts, or permit the social network provider allow other users to contact You whether or not they belong to Your network), and the contents of any enquiry or message You submit to Us via social media.

- IP Addresses: We will automatically collect Your IP address (an IP address is a number that can uniquely identify a specific computer or other network device on the Internet) each time You visit and use the Website. This allows Us to identify the location of users, to block disruptive use and to establish the number of visits from different countries. We analyse this data for trends and for statistical reasons, such as which parts of the Website users are visiting and how long they are spending there.

To help Us decide what marketing to provide to You, We obtain information from some social media providers (particularly Linked In, Facebook and Twitter) about group(s) that You belong to within that social network. The information We receive is about the group(s), not specifically to You, and it gives us statistics about the relevant group(s) that you belong to such as the size and demographic profile of each group.

For the purposes of online advertising, some service and social media providers, and particularly Google and Linked In, Facebook and Twitter, do not provide Us with personal information about You but they do use what they know about You in order to present Our advertising to You online after You have visited Our Website or have been identified (by those social networks) as having an interest in topics or keywords that We place advertisements against.

Our Website uses cookies to help Us and Our online service providers (and particularly Google) to collect information, build a profile about Your interests, and direct Our advertisements to You when you are browsing the internet. Please see the Cookie Notice on Our Website for more information.
